POSTAL SUBSIDIES.

The Senate Concurs in the House Amendment.

THE DEBATE ON TONNAGE SUBSIDIES.

Senator Manderson Elected President pro tem. of the Senate in Place of Ingalls.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Senate met at 9:30 o'clock. The General Deficiency bill was reported. Hale gave notice that he would ask for its consideration today. The Agricultural Appropriation bill was also reported, with a like motion.

The credentials of James Henderson Kyle, Senator elect from South Dakota, were presented and filed.

Fry called up the House amendment to the Tonnage Subsidy bill, and moved to non-concur in the amendment and that the request of the House for a conference be granted.

Reagan expressed a wish that the House Amendment be concurred in rather than that the danger of a more objectionable bill from the Conference Committee be incurred. Subsidizing ships, he held, was not going to increase commerce, and the only way to increase either imports or exports was to remove the shackles of the tariff. The bill was simply and nakedly a gift to the shipowners of the country.

Morrill moved to concur in the House Amendment.

Vest expressed himself opposed to all manner of subsidies. The Subsidy Bill did not apply merely to vessels to be built hereafter. The Red Star line with four American built ships running from Philadelphia would receive a large subsidy without expending a single dollar even for repairs and the Pacific Mail Company would receive $600,000 a year without further expenditure. These companies were already making money without aid from the Treasury, but at the risk of appearing inconsistent he was willing (if it would terminate the matter and prevent worse) to agree to the House amendment.

Cameron stated as to the Red Star Line, it had been doing business at a loss.

The question being on Morrill's motion to concur, Crockrell, Harris and Reagan stated their intention to vote against it. Vest stated his intention to vote for it, because it was otherwise certain the conference report would make a worse bill. After voting down half a dozen amendments offered by Vest, McPherson and Morgan (for free ships, reduction of subsidy, etc.), a vote was taken on the Morrill motion to concur in the House amendment for Postal subsides, and it was agreed to by yeas, 37, nays, 33.

Manderson has been elected Presiding Officer pro tempore of the Senate (replacing Ingalls).

MANDERSON INSTEAD OF INGALLS.

Sherman offered a resolution electing Manderson of Nebraska, as President pro tempore, to hold office during the pleasure of the Senate, and Gorman offered a resolution tendering the thanks of the Senate to Ingalls, for the "eminently courteous, and able manner in which he presided over its deliberations and performed the duties of President pro tempore. Both resolutions were agreed to and the oath of office was given to Manderson.

The House bill, relating to the treaty of reciprocity with the Hawaiian Islands, was passed; also the House joint resolution appropriating $1,000,000 for the improvement of the Mississippi River, to be immediately available.

Pugh was appointed on the committee to attend to Senator Hearst's funeral, in place of Dawes, excused.

The Postoffice Appropriation bill was then taken up and Frye, in place of the amendment which he had offered on Saturday night, offered one appropriating $1,400,000 for the transportation of foreign mails.

Morgan moved to amend Frye's amendment by inserting a provision that the Postmaster-General may employ any ships owned exclusively by citizens of the United States.

THE BILL PASSED.

The conference report on the bill as to the claims for Indian depredations were here presented and agreed to. Carlisle moved to amend Frye's motion by reducing the appropriation for the transportation of foreign mails to $1,250,000 and it was agreed to, the question being on Morgan's amendment allowing contracts to be made with vessels owned exclusively in the United States. Plumb moved to add to it the words "and constructed in the United States." Morgan then withdrew his amendment, remarking that the vote just taken had effected the purpose he had in view. Frye's amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

A resolution was offered, continuing the [illegible] of the committee on the Pacific Railroad's debt during recess of the Senate with power to sit at Washington. Agreed to.

The Senate then at 2 P. M. proceeded to the consideration of the Agricultural Appropriation bill.

THE COPYRIGHT BILL.

It Will Probably Reach the President's Hands.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The conferees on the Copyright bill have reached agreement and expect to report the bill today. The measure as it comes from the conference will contain the Sherman amendment allowing persons to import foreign books at ordinary rates of duty with a slight amendment). Changes also have been made in the Lithographer's amendment so as to confine the operations of that section to lithographs, cromos, and photographs.

Just as it appeared that a final agreement was reached by the conferees on the Copyright bill new complications arose and the fate of the measure is still uncertain. The Sherman amendment, proposed by the conferees, was found to be unacceptable to the House managers who now insist on the abandonment of the entire provision.

STABBED IN SIX PLACES.

A Chinaman Murdered by His Countrymen in Placer County.

AUBURN, March 2.—On February 15th Ah Louie, a Chinaman at Rattlesnake Bar, complained to a white man that his life was threatened. The white man went to his cabin and warned the other Chinamen. Ah Louie was soon missed and it was found a wagon had left the bar on the 16th with the body of the dead Chinaman. It was disinterred and it was found he had been murdered. The remains show he had been stabbed in six places. He was brought to Auburn, where an examination was held. At the inquest yesterday a verdict was found that Ah Louie was stabbed by unknown parties. Six Chinamen were arrested, two of whom were discharged and the other four held at the request of District Attorney Robinson.

TO ADVANCE THE CASES

Brought to Test the McKinley Tariff Act.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Four motions were made in the United States Supreme Court to advance the cases intended to test the validity and constitutionality of the customs administrative and the McKinley tariff laws. Attorney-General Miller stated that the Government is willing to have the cases advanced, but it desired to have the cases made up so as to fairly present the issues involved, which one of the cases at least did not do in his opinion. At his suggestion the matter went over for a week in order that the Government might examine the cases.

Peace in Chili.

IQUIQUE, Chili, via Galveston, March 2.—Quiet reigns here. The banks have reopened and business is being resumed.

IMPORTANT CHANGES

Made by the Senate Committee in the Deficiency Bill.

The Old French Spoliation Claims—To Civilize the Sioux—The Pacific Railroad Claims.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The most important change made by the Senate Committee on the General Deficiency Bill reported today was the addition of the French spoliation claims, carrying an appropriation of $1,301,000, with a proviso that, in case of the bankruptcy of the original sufferers, the award shall be made on behalf of the next of kin, instead of the assignees. The committee also attached to the bill Plumb's amendment providing for transfer without examination to the classified department service the clerical force of the census office. Other changes were made by the committee as follows: Civilization and support of the Sioux, $150,000; widows of the late Justice Waite and Miller, $10,500 and $10,000 respectively. The committee attached a provision directing the Secretary of the Treasury to examine and pay the claims that have been already reported to Congress for services performed for the Government by the several Pacific railroads, and increased to from 50 to 60 per cent of the rate paid by private parties, the amount to be paid to the aided Pacific railroads for services performed for the transportation of troops and supplies.

But the Glenn County Bill and the World's Fair Appropriation Are Not Yet Approved.

SACRAMENTO, March 2.—Governor Markham has signed the following bills: The Assembly bill permitting the trustee of an estate to resign and have his successor appointed by the Probate Court; the bill to give the District Attorney of San Francisco three assistants; the bill compelling parties suing out execution, where the property is claimed by a third party, to give bonds before; the Execution Writ bill; permitting cities from 3000 to 10,000 inhabitants, to authorize the County Tax Collector to act for the city. The bill making it possible for parties to adopt illegitimate children without the mother's consent.

The Governor also signed a number of deficiency bills, but refused to sign one for $21,000 for the Stockton Insane Asylum. He has not yet signed the World's Fair Appropriation bill, nor the Glenn County Division bill.

The Governor sent a message to the Legislatue regarding the death of Senator Hearst, in which he says: In each and every capacity he was the same kind and thoughtful friend. In his capacity as representative he was honest, faithful and intelligent and was highly respected by his colleagues in the Senate of the United States.

The appropriation of $25,000 to improve and take care of Sutter's Fort was passed to third reading.

The Congressional Apportionment bill was discussed and passed to third reading.

Recess.

In the Senate the Governor's message announcing Hearst's death was read, and the following committee appointed to act upon the message, consisting of Crandall, Dray, Delong, Ostrom and Mead. Routine business was then proceeded with.

The Appropriation Bill—Ballot Reform, The State Printer.

SACRAMENTO, March 2.—In the Assembly the General Appropriation bill passed. A motion to reconsider the vote upon which the bill to elect the State Printer, passed, was lost.

NOW IN THE HANDS OF THE PRESIDENT.

The Ships to be American Built and Will be Available for Cruisers in Case of War.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The Postal Subsidy bill has received final action in Congress and now goes to the President for his signature. The provisions of the bill are in substance as follows: The Postmaster-General is authorized to contract after due advertisement, with the lowest responsible bidders for terms not less than five nor more than ten years with American citizens for carrying the mails on American steamships between ports in the United States and such foreign ports (excluding Canada) as in his judgment will best promote the commercial interests of the United States mail service, to be distributed equitably among the Atlantic, Mexican, Gulf and Pacific points, the vessels to be

AMERICAN BUILT SHIPS,

Owned and officered by American citizens and the crews to be composed of American citizens in the following proportions; during the first two contract years, one-fourth; next three, one-third, and the remaining time at least one-half. The vessels will be constructed after the latest and most approved types divided into four classes as follows: first-class, iron or steel, 20-knot vessels of not less than 8000 tons (American-English mails are to be carried by this class entirely); second class, iron or steel 16-knot vessels, of not less than 5000 tons; third class, iron or steel 14-knot vessels, not less than 2500 tons; fourth class, iron, steel or wooden 12-knot vessels, not less than 1500 tons. Vessels of the first, second and third classes will be constructed with particular reference to prompt and economical conversion into

The compensation to be paid for mail service is as follows: First class, $4 per mile; second class, $2 per mile, by the shortest practicable route for each outward voyage; third class, $1 per mile; fourth class, 66 cents per mile for the number of miles required by the Postoffice Department to be traveled on each outward voyage. Provision is made for deductions on account of omitted voyages or delays, for transportation of a mail messenger on each vessel, for carrying apprentices or cadets of American birth (one for each 1000 tons), for use of the vessels by the United States as transports or cruisers on the payment to the owners of the actual value at the time of taking, and for assignment of duty on the vessels under furlough pay of naval officers who may volunteer for the service.

THE MONEY PROVIDED.

The appropriation of $1,250,000 made by the Senate to-day in the Postoffice Appropriation bill for the transportation of foreign mails, by the adoption of the Frye amendment increases the appropriation made in the bill as it passed the House by $500,000, the increase being due to the passage of the Postal Subsidy law, and the amount fixed in the bill as it came from the House being necessary, under the existing law, to pay for the transportation of the foreign mail of the United States.

The Treasury Department today made the first purchase of silver for the current month. The amount offered was 7,480,000 ounces, and the amount purchased 105,000 ounces at .98¼.

The levee at Paradise Gardens near this city broke last night and 200 acres are submerged. The loss will be heavy. The sudden rise was caused by the warm rain melting the snow in the mountains.

A SETTLEMENT

Between the Sacramento "Bee" and the Printers.

The Terms of the Compromise on Which the Boycott on that Paper is Declared Taken Off.

SACRAMENTO, March 2.—The differences between the Sacramento Typographical Union and the evening Bee which have for nearly five months past caused a boycott of that paper on the part of all the labor organizations of the State, was adjusted on Friday evening after a three days' conference between the Executive Committee of the union and the managers of the paper, but the basis of the settlement is just made known. The Bee is to reinstate a union force in its composing rooms on April 5th, and thereafter will be run as a union office. In unionizing its office the Bee is to chose such force as may be agreeable to it. It is conceded the Bee had the right to discharge its stereotyper in October, which was the immediate cause of the strike. A new stereotyper will be put in for a year, at the end of which time the present assistant, who for the past month has managed the department, is to have charge. He may join the Union or not, as he sees fit. The present foreman of the composing rooms is to retain his position and join the Union or not, as he may desire. The employes of other departments are not in any way affected.

Cutcheon of Michigan moved that the House nonconcur in the Senate amendments to the Army Re-organization bill, but on a point of order, the bill was sent to the Committee of the Whole. Subsequently the Speaker stated that an error was made in referring the bill to the Committee of the Whole. It should have been sent to the Committee on Military Affairs and would be so referred.

On motion of Carter of Montana the Senate bill was passed granting the Missoula and Northern Railroad Company the right of way through the Flathead Indian reservation in Montana.

The Senate amendments to the Indian Appropriation bill were non-concurred in and the bill sent to conference.

MRS. PORTER'S PENSION.

The Speaker laid before the House a communication from the family of Admiral Porter, extending its sincere thanks for the resolutions adopted by that body relative to the deceased.

Boutelle of Maine said he was sure the House would agree with him that this was a fitting time to pause a moment and do an act of justice to the venerable woman, who was mourning the loss of her husband, who had rendered illustrious service to his country. He asked unanimous consent for the immediate passage of the Senate bill, granting a pension of $2000 per year to the widow of Admiral Porter. Bunn of North Carolina objected.

Mrs. E. D. Marion, who is seeking to be re-instated as principal of the Swett school, is having a very hard time in getting her complaint considered. This morning, for the third time, her case was demurred out of court. Mrs. Marion held a first grade certificate, which she permitted to expire and did not renew it until after the present suit was commenced. The demurrer went to the point that she had been without a proper certificate. W. R. Davis, special counsel for the Board of Education, argued the demurrer.

Attorneys Reed and Nusbaumer, who represent Mrs. Marion, say that they will not again amend the complaint, but will immediately appeal to the Supreme Court from the decision rendered today.

MR. HATCH'S HOME.

A Claim That It Cannot Be Enjoyed by Its Owner.

Jabez Hatch owns little home on Broadway, near Delaware street. Prior to the time that W. A. Knowles improved the adjoining lot he enjoyed his home immensely. Mr. Knowles erected a building and so arranged the plans that a portion of it extends fifteen inches on the land of Mr. Hatch. When it rains the waste water from the Knowles house flows upon the Hatch home, deluges his yard, and makes matters generally unpleasant for him. Mr. Hatch has therefore brought a suit to recover $5000 damages from his neighbor.

NOTHING FOR HIS WIFE.

She Sued for a Divorce and Was Cut Off in Her Husband's Will.

John Peter Schmidt was for many years a resident of Alameda and accumulated property worth about $4000. A few months ago his wife left him and commenced proceedings for a divorce. Mr. Schmidt then made a will, leaving his entire estate to his three children. He died in January, while the divorce suit was still pending. When the will was admitted to probate today the wife was represented in court by an attorney, who made no objections to the proceedings. It is her intention, however, to claim half of the estate.

The City Hall Flag.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the standard was hoisted at half-mast over the City Hall out of respect to the memory of the late United States Senator Hearst.

No disposition had been shown to raise it until ex-Senator Frank Moffitt came up and commented severely on the absence of the customary mark of respect. He then hunted up J. West-Martin, President of the Board of Public Works, who gave the necessary instructions for the raising of the flag.

A BUSINESS DISPUTE.

J. H. and Michael Delahanty Accused of Grand Larceny.

John H. Delahanty and Michael Delahanty are reclining in a tank in the City Prison as a result of a complaint for grand larceny preferred against them by a negro named W. Moore.

It appears that a short time ago the Delehantys made a trade with Moore for a half interest in a small store he owned on Market street, they giving him a lot in San Francisco. Moore, however, claimed that the land was not in the condition he understood it to be and refused to give them the half of the goods. So the elder Delehanty, Michael, set about obtaining them by a replevin suit. He does not appear, however, to have carried this idea through, for it is understood that the Delehantys took the things away from Moore. He then swore to the complaint for their arrest.

During their trip to the City Hall in the patrol wagon they were brought into considerable prominence by one of the horses kicking over the pole and endeavoring to run away at the corner of Eighth and Washington streets. No damage was, however, done.

AFFAIRS OF THE COUNTY.

The Unfinished Work in the Office of the County Clerk.

The Expert Reports That a Competent Man Would Be Busy for Seven Months to Write Up the Records.

The Board of Supervisors held a regular meeting this morning. Supervisors Morgan and Brown being absent. Supervisor Bailey was elected temporary chairman.

Applications for assistance were received from Ellen Lu Claire, a widow; Jennie Mussenden of 714 Webster street, and Israel Storm of 358 Fourth street. The application of Mussenden was referred to Supervisor Morgan with power to act. The other two applicants were given permits to the County Infirmary.

Superintendent Shirk of the County Infirmary reported that the average number of patients during the past month was 256.

Ephraim Tyson was appointed Poundmaster of Niles in accordance with the prayer in the communication from residents of that district.

Expert R. A. Hughes made the following report: "I have made an estimate of the work now remaining unfinished which was left in that state in the County Clerk's office by ex-County Clerk C. T. Boardman, at the time of his resignation, and the length of time required to write up and complete the same, which is as follows: for record of franchises since 1888, twenty days; ordinances since 1888, twenty days; record of burial of dead soldiers, fifteen days; road records, thirty days; completing Supervisors' records, thirty days; completing Supervisors' records, 645 pages, sixty days—making a total of 175 days or equal to seven months' time. This computation is made upon the basis that the party doing the work is a rapid penman, fully competent and thoroughly conversant with that kind of work, and that he has free and uninterrupted use of all the records, reports and papers required to complete the unfinished work; and the compensation for such services would be worth at least $100 per month."

The report was referred to the Building Committee and the District Attorney, with power to act.

The report of the viewers for a new road in the Niles district was accepted, and the clerk was instructed to notify non-consenting land owners to appear on the last Monday in the month.

W. Kircher was granted permission to secure a license to conduct a saloon at Mariposa street and Shattuck avenue.

The report of County Superintendent of Schools Frick, regarding the changing of the boundary line between the Lorin and the Peralta districts, was laid over until the next meeting. He reported adversely on the petition to change the boundary line.

The applications of O'Brien and Carpenter and J. Montevido for permission to secure liquor licenses were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

In the afternoon an order and resolution was passed by the board levying a road poll tax for the year 1891, which may be collected between March 1st and December 31st.

John Kuck, Roadmaster of the Mount Eden road district, called attention to the number of cattle roaming at large in the public roads of his district and asked that some means be taken to prevent it.

On motion of Supervisor Bailey, a pound district was established in Mount Eden Road district, and Henry Meininger was appointed Poundmaster.

A lengthy petition was received from the residents of Sunol, calling attention to the fact that nothing has yet been done in regard to building a bridge over the Alameda creek at that place. The communication was placed on file.

John Winemann applied for a liquor license to conduct a saloon at Lorin. The usual bond accompanied the petition and the matter was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

After transacting some unimportant business the Board adjourned until Monday next.

Miss Priest is always warmly welcomed when she sings, and the benefit promises to be a very brilliant affair. The programme comprises three numbers by Miss Priest, two by H. Clay Wysham, he of the mellow silver lute, two by J. C. Hughes, baritone, and two four-part songs by a chorus selected from the Harmonic Society, D. P. Hughes, conductor. Within a week Miss Priest will leave for New York City to study the vocal art. Oakland will remain always her home, so there is an assurance of her return here.

AGAINST TAYLOR.

The Decision in the Great Black Estate Case.

THE PROPERTY MUST BE RETURNED.

By the Judgment Enos Taylor is Declared to be Entitled to Receive Only $6000 From the Estate.

Judge Greene this afternoon rendered a decision in the long-pending suit of E. R. Lilienthal, executor, and Mary Black, executrix of the estate of Joseph Black, against Enos Taylor for an accounting of the trust reposed in him by Joseph Black. A judgment was given for Taylor for $6000, and he was directed to deed to the plaintiffs all the property of the trust estate. The decision is virtually a defeat for Taylor. The case was a most interesting one and dates back to the long ago.

The plaintiffs paid the $6000 into court this afternoon to be paid to Taylor.

A brief history of the great case is as follows:

Years ago the late Joseph Black conceived a scheme whereby he thought he could make himself one of the richest men in Alameda county. Of course he realized that it would take time to make the fortune and as he had little money he knew that success would come only after a hard struggle. If he had been a frugal man he might have succeeded, but such was not Joe Black. He was extravagant and wanted to make money too quickly. His recklessness led to his financial downfall. However, in pursuance of the scheme he had planned he secured from the Bernals an undivided part of the Rancho El Valle de San Jose. The tract of land which he acquired reached from Pleasanton nearly to Livermore and embraced some of the richest soil in Alameda county. Having very little money he gave a mortgage on the land for nearly the full amount of the purchase price, securing $85,000 from a Sacramento Savings Institution. When this mortgage became due the land had increased in value and Black secured a loan of $100,000 from a San Jose Savings Institution, giving a mortgage for for the same and releasing the Sacramento debt. The last grew until the debt amounted to $115,000, and then Black went to the French Bank in San Francisco and secured a loan of $115,000 from them and released the San Jose debt. The interest commenced to pile up on the last mortgage until it amounted to $40,000, and Black, not being able to meet the interest, the French Bank brought suit to foreclose the mortgage.

The suit had been decided against him and he was about to be financially ruined, when he called upon his friend, A. A. Cohen, who agreed to advance him $175,000, at the rate of 1 per cent per month interest. Cohen stood ready to advance the money, and through him Black was made acquainted with Enos Taylor, then manager for Bray Brothers, across the bay, who in business circles was known as a "hustler." Cohen never really advanced the $175,000, and Black told Taylor that he was just the man that could get him out of the financial hole in which he found himself.

Taylor rustled around and got the French Bank to renew the mortgage instead of forcing the foreclosure suit, and secured a larger rate of interest. He also placed some mortgages on the land, securing interest as low as 7 per cent per annum.

Black then gave Taylor a deed of trust to all his property, giving him power to sell and mortgage the land in any manner he saw fit in order to reduce the debt. Under this deed of trust it was agreed that all the produce of the land should be shipped to Bray Brothers and disposed of by Taylor, who was to receive the regular commission allowed for handling the produce.

Shortly before Black died he made the acquaintance of E. R. Lilienthal, who advanced him a considerable sum of money, and he received a deed of trust to some of the land, and Black agreed to ship him the produce of the farm and allow him to handle the same across the bay.

Black then instituted a friendly suit against Taylor for an accounting, but before it was tried in court Black died.

His executors, May Black and E. R. Lilienthal, amended the original complaint and accused Taylor of fraud and of violating his trust. The suit grew into a very bitter contest and has been pending for some years. After a trial lasting many months, Judge Hamilton finally rendered a decision just before he went out of office, finding that Taylor was in debt under the trust in about the sum of $5000.

When Judge Greene presided in the department in which Judge Hamilton previously presided, he granted a motion for a new trial and the suit was tried again. Before the second trial was had, however, it was suggested by the court that it would be well to compromise the case. The plaintiffs offered to give Taylor land which they valued at $43,000, but which Taylor valued at $33,000, if he would compromise. Taylor, however, asserted that under the trust $65,000 was due him and declared that he did not want any land. The plaintiffs then said: "We will give you $17,500 in $20 gold pieces if you want to compromise." Taylor refused and said that he would take nothing less than $40,000 in cash. His proposition was rejected and a second trial was had before Judge Greene with the result as above stated.

The Championship of the Service Decided.

PISTOL TARGETS SHOULD BE CHANGED.

Two Popular Officers—A Grand Distribution of Medals Soon to Take Place.

The members of the guard who made 90 per cent records at the second or final target practice in November of last year (and not the "third" as the genius of a San Francisco morning paper would have it) had a competitive match at the Presidio Saturday afternoon in the midst of a shower of rain, and what Colonel Kellogg would be very likely to describe as an "8 o'clock wind." The contest was for the honor of championship of the State and the diamond medal. First Lieutenant E. L. Emmons of C Company of the Fifth Regiment of Infantry (Colonel Fairbanks) won the decoration on a score of 46 out of 50 points, which is not an unusual record in the guard by any means, but it may have been good under the conditions which obtained at the shoot of Saturday, where the men were handicapped by strange pieces, strange targets and winds which varied from "7 to 11 o'clock" with alarming rapidity. Eight of the eleven 90 per cent men were in attendance, and after the formality of inspecting the rifles as to pull of trigger, sights, etc., the contestants were paired by Corporal Lew Townsend, who acted as orderly for the occasion.

Colonel Sheldon I. Kellogg, late Inspector-General of Rifle Practice, and Lieutenant Emmons selected the west target; Private Unger of B Company of the First, and Sergeant A. A. Smith of C Company of the Fifth took the east target, and Private Young and Corporal Hult of the Nationals (C and G, First Infantry) the center target. Two sighters were allowed each man, and the contest was based on a single string of ten shots. The scores:

Smith..........3 3 3 3 3 4 4 4 4 4—35
Unger..........5 5 4 4 5 4 4 4 4 3—42
Young..........4 4 4 5 4 4 5 4 4 4—42
Hult...........5 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4—41
Kellogg........5 4 4 4 5 4 5 4 5 4—44
Emmons.........4 5 5 4 5 5 4 5 5 4—46

The men led off favorably, as the record indicates, excepting Smith, who evidently did not allow for the wind, as his shots were a 1 on the right of the target, and when he got adjusted it was too late to make up for his five unfortunate "inners."

Captain H. T. Sime of Battery A, Second Artillery, whose rifle was rejected because of too light a pull of trigger, was allowed to use a pistol with First Sergeant Abbott Hanks of the Brigade Signal Corps, and they moved down to within forty yards of the target and scored as follows:

Sime...........4 4 3 4 5 5 5 4 4 4—42
Hanks..........4 5 4 4 5 5 4 4 5 5—45

Had Hanks made two more points he would have obtained the medal. The official scorers were Lieutenant F. A. Kuhls, Inspector of Rifle Practice, Second Artillery; F. A. Kuhnle, and Colonel A. D. Cutler, Division Inspector.

Among the officers who witnessed the match were Brigadier General C. C. Allen, Adjutant General; Colonel T. F. Barry, Major Burgin, Colonel Cutler, Colonel W. B. English, Captain Cook and others.

Now that the annual target practice for 1890 is settled for all, it is well to say something about the inequality of the shooting which should be regulated before another competition takes place. First of all there can be no equality between a Springfield rifle on a six by four target with an eight-inch bull's-eye and a 26-inch "center" at two hundred yards, and the same identical target for pistol practice at forty yards, where a three-pound pull of trigger counts for as much as does six pounds pull at 200 yards. Marksmen using rifles generally deem it an injustice to compete with a pistol, and their point is a good one, for not only is a target as large as a barn door at forty yards, but the same target, when 200 yards away, dwindles down like the National Guard appropriation bill in the hands of an economic Legislature. At forty yards, the pistolier can see every circle on the target and with a steady hand and a three-pound pull, he can pump his bullets anywhere he wants them. On the other hand, at 200 yards, a man is fortunate if he can even locate the bull's-eye, when a glaring sun is a sufficient excuse for profanity. Rather should the three-pound trigger be applied to the Springfield and the six pounds to the pistol, or better still, reduce the size of the pistol target to correspond with the "A" target at 200 yards range. Men whose best records at 200 yards have been less than 35 with a Springfield rifle have made forty-five and more with a pistol at forty yards, while the man with a pistol, when put at the firing point of a 200-yards range with a rifle, has often scored a beautiful record of goose eggs. To be sure a rifle may be sighted finer, but it also requires a far finer bead on the target, not to mention drift and wind and elevation and other difficulties that must be overcome.

It would be a good idea to let those branches of the service who use pistols (batteries of artillery, cavalry, and signal corps) have their shooting independent of those branches who use rifles, for there certainly is a vast difference in the arms. The anomaly is apparent and should be regulated someway.

Says the big chief Go-out-and-find-the-news-and-come-back-and-write-a-lie, who sometimes tries to relate the doings of the guard in a San Francisco morning paper, "for the information of the National Guard:"

Borlini's name was not contained in orders announcing the result of the preliminary contest, and as a natural sequence, not having qualified at the first shoot, he was precluded from participating in the second, and when orders were issued immediately after the final shoot his name did not appear. But a subsequent order from headquarters declared him champion.

The italics show wherein the little boy lied. The first order immediately after the final shoot was General Orders No. 21, and Borlini's name was there, but a "subsequent" order declared him to be "not in it."

Adjutant-General C. C. Allen and his able assistant, Colonel R. E. Murray, have already made a favorable record for themselves at General Headquarters in National Guard matters, and the Commander-in-chief displayed a great deal of forethought in making the appointments he did. On Monday last these two officials were at Fresno, where the Sixth Regiment of Infantry (Colonel Lehe) fittingly celebrated Washington's Birthday. On Sunday evening a banquet was tendered the visiting officers at the Hughes Hotel. On this occasion the assistant adjutant-general was surprised by a presentation, not an inkling of which did he have prior to its happening.

Before Governor Markham came to his office Colonel Murray was the adjutant of the Sixth Regiment, which position has not been filled since his promotion. In the position of adjutant he was well liked by both officers and men, and being called to go higher, he takes the regards of both with him.

At the banquet, therefore, the appreciation was shown by the presentation of a sword to him thus inscribed: "Presented to Colonel Robert E. Murray, Assistant Adjutant General, by the Sixth Regiment Infantry, N. G. C., February 21, 1891."

The presentation address and response were both good, and were appreciated by those around the banquet board who heard them.

General Allen paid a high tribute to Colonel Lehe's command and said he found the companies better housed, as far as armories are concerned, than any other companies in the State. In regard to the Commander-in-Chief he said:

"The Governor is suffering from a severe attack of cold, but his health, while not perfect, is by no means as poor as many people have been led to believe. He suffers considerably at present from the wound received at Chickamauga, but he will soon be able to be out once more. The Governor's interest in the National Guard I know to be great, and that regarding the welfare of it and its members he will ever be exceedingly watchful, and when the opportunity arises for bettering its condition he will not overlook it."

There is a movement on foot to make the distribution of medals an affair to be remembered by the Oakland contingent of the National Guard. Committees have been appointed by Company A of the Fifth, (Captain Smith), Company C of the Third, (Captain Levy), Company F of the Fifth, (Captain Hayes) and the Fifth Regiment Band to arrange for a grand public presentation and battalion drill at Cavalry Hall some night during this month. The affair will conclude with a ball or a camp fire. The General, Division, Brigade and other officers will be invited to attend and review the battalion.

The members of Companies A and F of the Fifth and those of the band are organizing an athletic club and will fit up a gymnasium and club rooms in the rooms adjoining their armories recently vacated by the Occidental Club. None but active or ex-members of the companies in question will be eligible to membership in the new organization and matter has the indication of being a successful undertaking from the start. The club rooms open into the armories of the two companies and will give the members of those organizations comfortable quarters in which to spend their winter evenings.

Two weeks ago a Regimental order from Headquarters of the Fifth Infantry calling for a series of battalion drills by the different companies and those of the Oakland companies were announced for February 16th and 26th. The first one was held all right and was a success and the company commanders had issued orders to their men to assemble for the second on Thursday night last, when along came a peremptory telegraphic order on Wednesday night to hold no drill. It could not have been caused by indications of inclement weather nor a lack of officers, for major and adjutant and sergeant-major live here, and the drill could have occured in the armory. Why the drill was prevented at the last moment is a deep mystery, but it is said it was postponed because of the Elks' Carnival that occurred on Thursday night. Of course, this cannot be possible, but if such is a fact it would be well to disband the Oakland companies and organize them as a lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. Such is out of place except in the nursery or kindergarten and the guardsmen must not believe such foolishness of their commanding officer.

And now comes the Lieutenant who wears "five braids and a single knot" on his overcoat, and like the officer who lives down "where the men they wash the dishes," he registers his little "kick" and howls aloud that it should be noticed. That man ought to join the "chronic kickers" of Company A, who recently had section 22 of the Articles of War read to them with good effect. They need reinforcements badly.

When the medals for the members of the Fifth were received from the Adjutant General's office there came also a gold bar for Corporal Borlini, which the Adjutant wisely held at Regimental Headquarters to await the Adjutant General's decision in the Borlini affair. Now that it has been decided that Borlini made no record, this gold bar should be returned to Sacramento. Of course Borlini is not entitled to it.

Captain Hayes (Company F of the Fifth) paraded with forty-three men on Washington's Birthday.

MONDAY............... MARCH 2, 1891.

IT appears from the evidence in a lawsuit, that in San Jose a ton of hay weighs 1500 pounds. Does any one know how much it weighs in Oakland?

IT is seldom that a primary election has been so honestly fought as that of last Saturday. There is absolutely not a single peg on which to hang a charge of fraud.

THE Los Angeles Republicans have decided to return us "the banner" and they issue a friendly challenge to fight for it again at the next Presidential election. We are wid you.

THE success of the Republican ticket at the coming election is merely a question of harmony and as there is not the smallest ground for a quarrel, there should be no doubt of the party's success.

THE Republicans of Oakland need scarcely be told that the only hope of success which the Democrats cherish arises from the off chance of creating dissensions among the Republicans. Understanding this fact, the party will read between the lines of anything which may appear during the week in the Democratic organ.

PROBABLY the most grotesque funeral ceremony on record was that of Puck Meyer, a Staten Island hotel-keeper, whose remains were cremated at his own desire and the ashes divided in four paper bags, which were then taken by four friends to the top of "Liberty Enlightening the World" and there cast to the four winds of heaven, if four there were, with the solemn words, "Here goes the last of Puck Meyer's happy days."

THE duty of making a platform for the convention that meets tonight and for the municipal campaign will be weighty and important. We should be glad to see at the head of the committee charged with that duty such a man as the Hon. Charles N. Fox or the Hon. S. G. Hilborn, for instance, men who are thoroughly in touch with the best sentiment of the community, and who would bring to the work the highest intellectual ability.

IF the promoters of the Nicaragua Canal Subsidy bill had consented to Senator Stewart's amendment to have the work done under the control of the United States Engineer, it would probably have gone through, and it is certain that it ought not, and probably will not at any time be passed without some such requirement. A Government subsidy of this sort, confined to private management and disbursement, is simply a bonus for corrupt construction companies, and an invitation to a contractor to rob himself rich.

Senator Hearst.

Senator George Hearst will be regretted as a manly type of the men who made their way to the front in the face of heavy odds, flinching at no obstacle, however great, and all the while preserving a rugged and uncompromising honesty. It has been said of Mr. Hearst that no man was made poor to make him rich, and the sentence is just. His great wealth was won by hard work from the rock-ribbed hills and the bleak mountains. The making of his fortune has given work to thousands of others and the result is a distinct gain to the stock of human wealth. As a citizen of California and its representative in the United States, Mr. Hearst made for himself a warm place in the hearts of our people. He was an honest, kindly man, and good.

The Result of the Primaries.

The contest at the Republican primaries on Saturday was not marked by any bitterness of feeling. It is admitted that it was fairly conducted on all sides and there is not the slightest ground on which to hang an objection to the result. That result will be accepted by the party as a whole, and the effort of the Democratic minority to create a split in the Republican party will fail for want of material on which to work.

It is conceded that the vote of Saturday means the nomination of M. C. Chapman for Mayor. In the preliminary contest the TRIBUNE took no sides and we are entirely satisfied with the result. The party choice having fallen on Mr. Chapman, we accept him as the leader and we are certain that the confidence which the people place in him will be justified when he is elected, as he will be elected Mayor of Oakland. He has already been tried in office and was not found wanting. His services as the representative in the Legislature of an Oakland district will not soon be forgotten. To him and his marked ability was largely due the ratification by the Legislature of the charter of Oakland. He passed through the session of the Legislature absolutely unstained in honor, in itself a most remarkable thing for even an honest man finds those who will threw mud at him in malice and envy.

Mr. Chapman is a temperance man, but not a prohibitionist. He is himself, we understand, a total abstainer, and believes in the power of education and example to make others temperate. He is of the best type of American, having begun life as a house painter, and by hard work and study, joined with fine natural ability, he has taken his place at the head of the column as a leader of men. A good citizen and a man of family, having a stake in the community, blameless as to his life, and of the best intellectual equipment, he is a fit man to be the standard bearer of the Republican party in Oakland.

MEN AND WOMEN.

Mrs. George Whalley is ill with la grippe.

Mrs. Jennie Mason is confined to her home with la grippe.

Miss Bessie Weed has fully recovered from her recent illness.

Mr. Taft, of Taft & Pennoyer, returned from the East on Saturday.

Mr. Reed of the firm of Reed & Miller, who has been quite ill, is able to be out.

Charles Gordon Martin has entered the United States Navy and will sail for China in May.

The wedding of Miss Minnie Hill and Edward Vitalis will take place about the end of March.

Charles W. Bibber and J. Gleason Shead of Eastport, Me., are visiting Mrs. R. R. Winter on Grove street.

J. H. Aldrich, brother of Police Officer Aldrich, is visiting the latter in this city. The former is engaged in railroading in Mexico.

Mrs. Charles Pfeiffer of Albany, Or., is in attendance at the sick bed of her daughter, Miss Carrie Pfeiffer, who came here for her health.

Mrs. R. H. Moskiman and daughter left Sunday for a month's visit to San Luis Obispo, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dennis.

A. C. Henry, President of the California Bank and Trust Company, is confined to his bed with illness. Frank Brooks, the cashier of the same institution, has but just recovered from his illness.

The wedding of George D. Cooper and Miss Nettie Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Minor Smith, will take place at the residence of the bride's parents at Buena Vista and Versailles avenues, Alameda, next Wednesday evening.

A Washington dispatch says: Representative and Mrs. McKenna will go to Europe about the last of May for several months, unless President Harrison should go to the Pacific Coast very soon after Congress adjourns, in which case Mr. McKenna will go to California also, but not with the Presidential party.

The engagement of Frederick A. Merrill and Miss Brownie Sedgwick, daughter of John Sedgwick, is announced. The wedding will occur after Easter. On account of the recent bereavement in the family of Miss Sedgwick the ceremony will be quietly solemnized in the presence only of relatives of the bride and groom.

The social on Tuesday evening last at the First Baptist Church was well attended considering the inclemency of the weather. A fine programme was carried out by the following: Little Miss Summers recited very delightfully; Professor Crabtree, wife, and son gave a cornet duet with piano accompaniment; Miss Ethel Hornick delighted the audience with a selection; each piece received an encore. The programme was then concluded by a recitation by Master Harvey Lyon, entitled "The Village Blacksmith," which was applauded. Coffee and cake were served and all expressed themselves as delighted with their evening enjoyment.

FONES SAYS HE WAS NOT STRUCK

The Prohibitionist Who Wanted to Vote at the Republican Primary.

To the Editor of The Tribune—SIR: Your account of my attempt to vote at the primary on Saturday in the Fifth ward for the Chapman ticket and being challenged by J. S. White is true so far, but that he struck me or that I had any contact with him is not true.

I have known M. C. Chapman personally the last fifteen years and I know him to be a thorough temperance man, advocating always the principle of total abstinance and being an example of it himself.

A friend of mine requested me to vote at the primary for his delegates, and I told him I would if they asked me no questions.

I have voted and worked in the Republican party until recently, and desire its success in preference to the Democratic party; and above all things prefer that good men be put on its ticket. I am a Prohibitionist. We are working for a National party, and while we put up a city ticket we have no hope that any of our candidates will be elected. As there is no chance for the election of our nominees, I see no reason when I prefer the success of the Republican party to the Democratic, why I should not vote at the primary for the best man to be put on their ticket for them to vote for, which will give us good city government.

I consider that I have a better right to vote at the primary than J. S. White, who challenged me. A short time ago he was a worker and a voter in the Democratic party, and now he threatens to go back to them again. J. H. FONES.

A TRIBUNE reporter who saw Mr. Fones asked him if he intends to vote the Republican ticket or the Prohibition ticket at the coming election. He replied that at the present time he will not say.

THE FERRY LANDING.

The Temporary Buildings at the Foot of Market Street, San Francisco.

The Southern Pacific Company's new depot at the foot of Market street, San Francisco, which is to be used pending the erection and completion of fine buildings, will be opened for service about March 15th. The structure is of wood, 200 feet long and ninety feet wide. At the northern end there will be the baggage offices, where small freight will be checked. Adjoining this, and twenty-four feet in width, is to be the passenger gangway for people coming from Oakland or Alameda. An apartment 92x72 will contain the ticket offices and waiting rooms so arranged as to facilitate the transaction of business. In the west end of the building the Postoffice stands, thirty-three feet wide and seventy-two feet deep. Although only a temporary structure, this building will be more convenient than the present one. It is estimated that the permanent offices will not be ready for at least two years.

Death of Captain Barham.

Haywards Journal.

Captain James Barham, who has been an invalid for a number of years, passed peacefully away at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. He had reached a ripe old age—86 years—and it was wonderful how he has for years fought against the grim destroyer that was slowly but surely sapping his life. The deceased came to Haywards about twenty years ago and purchased his late property from Joseph Bennett. He was very anxious to have a new residence erected at once, and being a man of determined will, he secured a large force of carpenters and ordering the necessary lumber, actually had the edifice completed in one day! He suffered a great bereavement in the loss of his wife five or six years afterwards. The funeral took place Thursday, services being held in the Episcopal Church.

A GOPHER FOR A CREST

A Suitable Emblem For One Class of Politicians.

ALMOST A CRIME NOT TO SCRATCH TICKETS

The Comments of Dr. McLean on Dangers to American Citizenship and the Antidote.

The Sunday papers were not touched yesterday by Rev. Dr. McLean. Indeed, they seldom, if ever, are. He permitted none to speak to him of the political affairs now at issue in this city. He knew nothing of the result of the Republican primary election on Saturday. He was not informed of the delegates elected by the Democratic convention at the meeting of the ward clubs on Saturday evening. Purposely did the pastor of the largest Protestant church in this city evade knowledge of the details of the events in municipal politics. He desired in his evening discourse to give to his congregation and also to that larger congregation, the community, his thoughts upon the duties of citizens, intending his remarks to apply to the election soon to be held.

A congregation of about the usual size gathered in the First Congregational Church to participate in the services and to listen to the pastor's discourse, in which there was nothing sensational, nothing partisan, nothing intemperate. It was a quiet, earnest bit of advice of one citizen to his fellows.

The hymns were sung, a prayer was offered, the quartet of the choir sang an anthem, the soprano, the alto, the bass and the tenor successively crying "Oh, for the wings of a dove," the collection was taken, and then Dr. McLean announced his text from the eighth chapter of Zechariah, the sixteenth verse:

These are the things that ye shall do: Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbor; execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates.

"I desire to say, before taking up the subject of my remarks," said he, "that while they are prepared for a time like this and are intended to bear upon issues now before you, I have refrained from being informed of the results of yesterday in political matters. I do not take any Sunday paper nor do I read any, nor do I upon the Sabbath supplement my knowledge of the intelligence of Saturday.

"While in my action at the polls I do not differ from any other citizen I feel that in the sanctuary, in the place of instruction, you should hear only such principles as shall apply to all parties and should govern general political action rather than words relating to any party or section of any party. If anything that is said seems particularly applicable to any candidate or set of candidates that is the fault of the candidate or candidates, and not the aim of the speaker.

"I shall address you upon the dignity and the dangers of American citizenship—the dignity inherent to American citizenship and the dangers incident to it. By American citizenship I mean about the same as American manhood, which, at its best, I regard as the highest in the way of manhood the world has yet attained.

"The dignity of American citizenship is seen in the elements which constitute it, and of these I shall consider three.

"The first is the noble birthright of personal independence—personal independence in contrast with servile subjection in ancient Rome, with serfdom in Russia, with feudal tenure that formerly obtained in Germany and England, with dependent tenancy that now is in practice in England and elsewhere, with citizenship under any form of monarchy, whether absolute or limited, carrying as it must, a retinue of rank, titles and class prerogatives. The birthright of personal independence in contrast with these is indeed a gift of great price. Manhood under all such conditions must necessarily be dependent upon accidents as of birth, rank, station, title or wealth—possible to some, impossible to most. It is the proud and just boast of our American citizenship that manhood with us is wholly independent of any forced or artificial condition. It is dependent only upon man's own inherent power and quality. In other lands magnificent specimens of manhood are possible, but they are among the favored few, given opportunity by conditions such as I have mentioned.

"The second element of dignity is the birthright of personal intelligence, the right and the chance to observe, know, reflect, consider, and conclude, in brief, to think and to act out thought without intellectual control or interference. To carry out this the whole force of this government is pledged, not always exercised, but pledged.

"The third element of dignity is manhood suffrage. The right as inherent, not conferred upon a man, to have voice and part in molding public weal. The prerogative inheres in personality, not rank nor property.

"There is nothing of value that is not beset with peril, and according to the value are the weight, number and persistency of the perils; as wild plants or trees, wild roses or apples or grapes, growing in their original state are not attacked by destructive pests and seem to find protection in their very worthlessness, but when cultivated La France roses or Belle fleur apples or Muscat grapes are constantly in peril from attack, and to protect them the owner must fight scale, moth and aphis. So I wish to speak tonight chiefly upon the dangers of American citizenship, taking the dignity for granted. I have not time to speak of dangers past nor of possibilities, or even probabilities of dangers to come in the future. I speak only of present dangers which threaten American citizenship. The dangers that now seem to me uppermost are three.

"The first of these is the imminent danger of real patriotism degenerating into mere partisanship, a strong and increasing tendency of the times, and hastening to become, if it has not now become, a fixed condition. This liability is unavoidable under a free ballot. Men must organize to carry out ideas. Political parties are necessary. We cannot carry on a republican form of government without them. There is no other way to formulate and execute public opinion. When a great political party is well disciplined it is a mighty engine for mischief, equally potent for good as for evil. In political parties enthusiasm must be evolved. That is necessary; enthusiasm is the dynamic force of public opinion; but there is danger that it may miss its aim, that the good end may become obscure and finally be lost. Good of country is forgotten. Party becomes the end instead of the means. Loyalty is transferred by degrees from country to party. Patriotism dies and partisanship usurps its place. Alas for citizenship, alas for manhood, when that condition prevails.

"The second menace, and this grows out of the one of which I have just been speaking, is the peril of caucus and convention control. Caucus and convention were formed to aid public opinion, but they have ended by tyrannizing over it. This condition involves two serious evils. It prevents a man from standing for office on real merit; he must have adventitious standing. Nominations obtained under the caucus system, as it is worked, are the result of trading, combination or gophering. The gopher never comes above ground if he can help it. Sometimes he comes up to get his bearings; then, instead of going up, he goes down to his destination. He fills the hole after him. That noble creature, the gopher, might well be emblazoned as the crest and coat-of-arms of the caucus. A man who aspires for office must go down to the gopher runs. If he does not go himself he must send some one. How seldom is it that we see a candidate take such a stand as Colonel Sprague is reported to have taken in North Dakota. When applied to stand for the United States Senatorship he replied that he would give no pledge nor promise nor enter into any combination in order to achieve election. The newspapers all over the country said it would take no prophet to predict that the other man would get there, and the other man did get there. Secondly, the caucus is often worked as an appliance for defeating public preference, instead of carrying it out. Not only is the fittest man not selected but the people can not get opportunity to vote for the man they really would prefer; unless by accident, or as a sop to conciliate a certain element that could not otherwise vote the ticket, or unless the people revolt and throw off party riders. This brings a serious strain on American manhood and puts a premium on ways that are dark and devious. Men are educated to feel that they can't be clean and honest and above board. It is a sad thing for any civilization when young men are trained to think that way.

"The third prominent peril to American citizenship is the money influence in elections, becoming more and more prevalent, not only in national and State elections, but even in municipal elections. There are three degrees or planes of this money influence. The scavenger plane keeps bummers in booze for one or two or three weeks before election, hires them to carry torches, to act as claquers at public meetings, and render other valuable public services. In this same plane is buying votes with whisky, slinging $20 on a counter by a candidate who never drinks, and if he has manhood left scorns himself for doing it. The second plane is the distribution of spoils patronage, and contracts. Sometimes the problem seems almost beyond solution why such interest is taken in a municipal election. Some people undoubtedly are actuated by patriotic motives, some by laudable party motive, but with still more the impelling force is sinister. They work for some expected job, some preference in awarding a contract, and the expectation influences their actions corruptly and therefore tends to obstruct the true expression of popular will. The third is the open corruption by direct and unconcealed purchase of votes and voters. Recently in Pennsylvania $200 000 was spent and money has been telegraphed across the continent to Oregon and elsewhere to influence elections. More and more is it getting so that only two kinds of men can afford to aspire to public office, one having barrels of money to disburse and the other willing to disburse it.

"The antidote for all these evils I shall suggest.

"First, refuse to be a partisan. Insist on being a patriot. Be a party man without being in a mean sense a partisan. Be a patriot; stand for the public good, in defiance of all party pressure or domination. Don't be whooped in; don't let the party whip drive you. Stand back on your dignity as an American citizen. Don't be cowed in your party or cowed out of it. Use your own best judgment.

"In the second place, by word and vote rebuke corrupt measures and corrupt men. Regard all measures brought about by corruption as really a conspiracy. If party managers insist on putting up unworthy men defeat your party. Let party managers understand that there is a God in heaven and an independent spirit among American citizens.

"Third—Scratch! The advice has been given to vote early and often. I advise to scratch early and often. I regard it as almost a crime for any man to vote a straight municipal or county ticket. It is impossible, as politics run, to have all the good men on one ticket. Don't let two or three good men obscure your sight of five or six bad men. What possible difference can it make it to the politics of the man who conducts public business here provided he is honest, public spirited and capable? If you find a candidate suitable to you who coincides with your political views, vote for him. Select the best men. If all the nominees are bad, bolt all conventions and vote for some citizen not nominated. If nobody in your neighborhood is good enough for you, vote for yourself.

"Read your ballot in the light of the great white throne. Vote as unto God and not as unto man. The franchise is the highest privilege of the free born citizen. Magnify and dignify your citizenship. If good citizens insist upon such action as I have suggested, they will act as a tonic and purifier for the political atmosphere.

"Take your stand for the highest ends, patriotism, morality and purity and those other things that make for the highest American citizenship, for which, with all its limitations and defects, God be praised."

AN ANNIVERSARY.

Twentieth Year of the Livermore Presbyterian Church.

The twentieth anniversary of the Livermore Presbyterian Church, recently celebrated was an occasion of much interest. This church, which was organized by Rev. W. W. Brier with nine members, has now a membership of seventy-seven, and is in a prosperous condition, under the pastorate of Rev. F. H. Robinson, who was settled there last August. For the first ten years of its history it was somewhat dependent on the Home Mission Board, but for the last ten has been entirely self-supporting. Several of the former pastors sent letters to the anniversary services, which were read and proved to be full of interesting reminiscences.

DIMOND TRACT
Fruit Vale Avenue. East Oakland

Fruit Vale avenue has for many years been deemed to be one of the most desirable locations this side of the bay, for residence property. It is sheltered from winds, has a sunny exposure and delightful climate, and is handsomely improved by a number of the most elegant homes and charming ornamental gardens. The tract now offered for sale is a portion of the home place of Mr. Hugh Dimond, and is situated upon the avenue, at the intersection of Hopkins street—the terminus of the Highland Park and also the new Fruit Vale street railways. The Highland Park line is about to be re-constructed and re-equipped and will furnish frequent access to and from this property, including early and late trips.

Lots will be sold on liberal terms if desired. Superior cement sidewalks are being laid. City water is being introduced. It is also proposed to have electric lights upon the avenue.

☞ AS AN INDUCEMENT to parties erecting homes, arrangements have been made with the Railway Companies by which a FREE PASS good for five years, will be furnished for each dwelling erected upon the Tract within a specified time. For the purpose of protecting the property and insuring a good class of purchasers, a stipulation will be required—that no house worth less than $1500 shall be erected. Purchasers will, however, not be required to build at all, if they do not desire. These lots have upon them, choice, vigorous, young fruit trees, now in full bearing. AFE CRACKERS STILL HERE.

The Office of R. Franke's Pickle Factory Entered by Burglars.

The Knobs Knocked From the Door of the Safe, but the Job Not Completed by the Thieves.

The burglars who cracked the safes of Torrey, Whitman & Gardiner and William P. Wheeler last Friday night, have not yet departed from Oakland. They are still here, and last night they attempted another job, but did not complete it.

The office of Charles Franke, the pickle man, on Grove street, was the place visited last night, and the burglars did not have any trouble in effecting an entrance, for the lock is one of the most common kind. Once inside, the curtains were drawn down and a few blows with a muffled hammer knocked off the knobs (the safe was an old style one). Just why the men did not finish their job, of course, never will be known, but they may have been frightened away. At any rate they would have had their trouble for nothing, for Mr. Franke has taken warning from others and now puts his coin and valuables in a more secure place than his office safe. The beat on which Franke's office is located belongs to Officer Rand, who is expected to patrol all the territory from Seventeenth to Twenty-sixth street and from Grove to New Broadway. Nor is this the largest beat in the city.

Chief of Police Tompkins has given his officers permission to wear any clothing they desire after midnight, and a number of officers will be placed on duty without uniforms to watch and follow all suspicious strangers from early evening until they are safely housed.

The present Postmaster took office June 7th, 1890. Receipts for quarter ending September 30, 1890, $18,219 43; receipts for quarter ending December 31, 1890, $21,133 27; receipts for month of January, 1891, $7,448 81; receipts for month of February, 1891, $6880 72; total for two months, $14,329 53. Receipts for year ending March 31, 1890, $69,019 31; receipts for eleven months ending February 28, 1891, $70,585 16. Requiring for the month of March $9 414 84 to bring the revenue up to $80,000, the sum required to raise the classification of the office to the next higher grade.

To do this the people of Oakland must put their shoulders to the wheel during this month and each and all resolve to buy their stamps at home instead of in San Francisco. San Francisco does not need the revenue—Oakland does, and is entitled to it. Forty to fifty thousand dollars are paid by Oakland people annually into the San Francisco office to the neglect of their own. Now, you are asked to come to the relief of your own postoffice, and by doing so get better service.

After a few selections of appropriate music Miss Chapman recited the charming kindergarten story, "Patsy," by Mrs. Kate D. Wiggin. She held the attention of her audience from the first to the last, who frequently interrupted with hearty applause. Miss Chapman has a soft clear voice, and recites in a pleasing manner peculiarly her own. Her gestures are the poetry of motion.

Mierdierks, '93, has withdrawn from the University to enter Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia. It is his ambition to become a soldier-surgeon.

Sidney Mezes, '81, is devoting his time to the study of philosophy at Harvard. He will probably take his doctorate in 1892. He spent part of last summer in Germany at the University of Tubingen.

Lenbhert, '92, had his entire running suit stolen last Monday. This prevented him entering the half-mile run at the Olympic field contest, in which he had a good chance to win second place.

The Classical Club will meet next Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Boone. Professor Putzker will read a paper on the "Aspects of German Literature in Connection with the Classics."

The recent reports from the War Department indicate that that department takes great interest in the perfection of plans in regard to the military instruction given in colleges where the Government details an army officer as instructor in military science. There are some fifty of these, the best of which, in almost every respect is the University of California. It is the wish of the War Department that the cadet officers at the University, should upon graduation be made brevet officers in the National Guard and that precedence should be given them in the National Guard. The state of Illinois gives this precedence to the cadet officers of her University. There is also a movement on foot to organize two more regiments of artillery to the United States army, and in the appointment of Second Lieutenants to give precedence to graduates of colleges where the Government has a military instructor stationed. Next May the University Battalion will be inspected by Colonel Burton, the regular army instructor. Lieutenant Randolph is still adding new features to the instruction here. The signal corps is already quite expert in flag signaling. The corps will soon be instructed in telegraphing. A line will be constructed between the armory and the officers' room where the corps will practice. Lieutenant Randolph hopes to also have two heliographs soon. The target practice will also be more systematic this term. Drill will be given in aiming and estimating distances, and each junior of the first class will be required to take fifty shots at the target. Among other innovations a "Military Report" and a "Battalion Sick Report" will be kept. Sergeant Gates, clerk of the battalion, has been assigned to Company D. Lieutenant Randolph will lecture before the battalion this term on the new army regulations now in process of compilation; also on target practice, on signal practice, on making camps, on military hygiene, on army discipline and army government.

BERKELEY.

Miss B. Hamilton has returned from Sacramento.

Louis Gottshall has returned from Sacramento to stay, so he says.

M. M. Stevenson, who has been confined to his house for the past month with pneumonia, is now able to attend to his business interests in San Francisco.

Dr. J. S. Eastman is suffering from three very bad sties, two on one eye and one on the other. He was obliged to consult an oculist, for fear they would injure his eye sight.

The first of the Berkeley High School entertainments took place last Friday evening. In spite of the rain the hall was packed, and it was the common remark as the people were leaving the hall that "it was the finest entertainment ever given in Odd Fellows' Hall."

WEST BERKELEY.

The sewers at the foot of Bancroft and Dwight ways are to be extended to deep water. A pile driver will be put to work on the foundation as soon as the weather will permit.

GOLDEN GATE.

Eddie Burbank died Saturday morning after a sickness of two weeks. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Comstock, whose house was blown down by the gale of last Monday night, denies the assertion that it was prostrated by the windmill falling upon it. She says the windmill did not fall until after the house fell.

TEMESCAL.

The heavy rain came near carrying away the Grove street bridge, lately built by the Electric Railroad Company. The creek is very high.

The warm rain has been favorable to the development of the mushroom which is plentiful on the hills. Baskets full of fine fungi are gathered there.

A general wail comes from Temescalites in regard to the bad condition of the streets. Main thoroughfares need repairing, culverts are wanted in various places and streets need to be graded. Among the latter, the property owners in the vicinity of Temescal street want that street graded from Cherry to its terminous (about two blocks.) They are willing to sign a petition and give a neat little sum from their own pockets toward the work.

The purchase of the Moseguard place in Castro Valley, consisting of nineteen acres, by the Sisters of the Sacred Heart, Oakland, was recorded last week. The new owners will make a number of improvements this summer. Why They Do It

WHY do so many thousands use SCHILLING'S BEST culinary supplies? Well—it is very plain. Because with them the cooking is always successful. They are so much richer in flavor and stronger than others that they give the best results with the least drudgery—least failure—least annoyance—most certainty—most economy—most satisfaction. Reasons enough. Those who fairly test them once, naturally use them again and again.

WE can not force any one to buy and use SCHILLING'S BEST culinary supplies. Yet—what becomes of the millions of packages sold—unless it is true they prove to be just as represented—and people don't want to be without them!!

TICKET MAKING.

M. C. Chapman Wins at the Primary.

R. W. SNOW PROBABLY FOR AUDITOR

Indications of the Selections to be Made for Councilmen.

Delegates for Chapman for Mayor Elected in Six of the Seven Wards—W. R. Davis for Chairman.

When Chairman Fred E. Whitney of the Republican City Central Committee calls the convention to order at 7 o'clock tonight, in Germania Hall, some delegate will rise and nominate W. R. Davis for chairman. Mr. Davis is an ex-Mayor of this city, a staunch and true Republican, and a man whom his fellow-citizens delight to honor. So William R. Davis will be chosen chairman of the Republican City Convention.

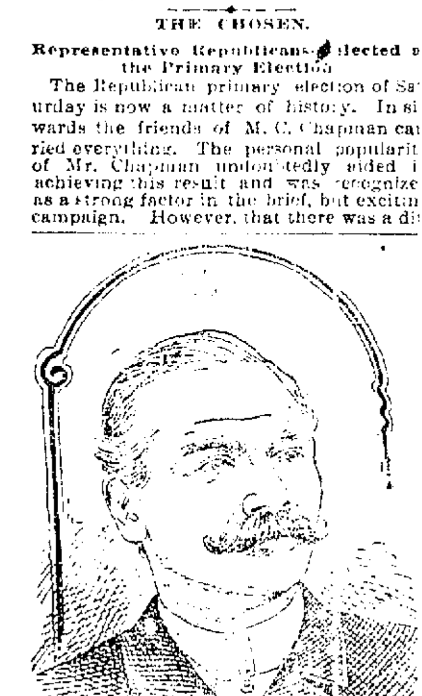
There have been questions numerous of a local character lugged into this campaign, and the convention will take great care in selecting a committee to formulate a party platform and issue resolutions embodying the ideas of the Republicans on such issues as have been discussed.

Two hundred and three chosen citizens, representing the pick of the Republican party, will, without doubt, utter the best opinions, give expression to the best thoughts, and nominate the best candidates of the people.

THE CHOSEN.

Representative Republicans Elected at the Primary Election

The Republican primary election of Saturday is now a matter of history. In six wards the friends of M. C. Chapman carried everything. The personal popularity of Mr. Chapman undoubtedly aided in achieving this result and was recognized as a strong factor in the brief, but exciting campaign. However, that there was a difference of opinion in every ward is manifested by the record of the vote at the primaries.



M. C. Chapman.

In the First ward the Chapman ticket had 302 votes to 203 for the opposition.

The Second ward Chapman ticket was elected, receiving about 300 to 130 for the opposition.

The Third ward Chapman ticket had 27 votes to 225 for the unpledged delegation.

The Fourth ward was also carried for Chapman, notwithstanding that Mr. Powell resides there. In the three precincts Chapman had a majority of 85.

The Fifth ward ticket, which will support Chapman, Johnston and Macdonald, respectively, for Mayor, ward Councilman and Councilman-at-large, won. In the First precinct, it had 57 votes, Second precinct, 178 votes, and some of the delegates were on two or more tickets.

The Sixth ward cast a heavy vote, Chapman's ticket receiving 387 votes to 91 for Powell.

The Seventh ward was for Powell by 12 majority.

IN THE SWIM.

Some of Those Likely to be Chosen as Candidates Tonight.

Of course, with a convention of 203 men it would be presumptuous to say that the wishes of a majority could be announced in advance of their action. However, the probability of decision tonight can be, in a measure, gauged, because of the general and open expression of opinion, which delegates have not hesitated to give concerning their favorites for Councilmen, School Directors, etc.

H. A. Powell.

The First ward will present the name of H. M. Collins for Councilman, and Mr. Walcott for School Director. Harry Garthorne will be named for Councilman-at-Large, and George Clark, of Clark & Wooley, boiler makers, is also spoken of for the same office.

The Second ward people have J. H. Smith in mind for Councilman and F. R. Girard for School Director. The friends of Julius Zabel would like him nominated for Councilman-at-Large and J. S. Wixon is in it for School Director-at-Large. Mr. Smith, however, says that he don't want to sit in the Council, because he is attorney for clients who have suits against the city for damages growing out of the Broadway fill.

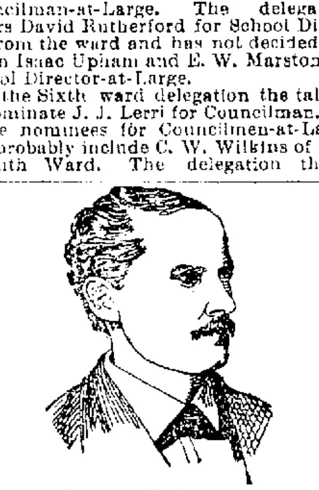
The Third ward delegation will name James W. Nelson for Council. Arthur Donnell, the popular insurance man, got in and swung the Nelson vote in support of the Chapman ticket at the primary election, hence Mr. Nelson will be the choice of the delegation for Councilman. He is a strong man in the Third. It is thought that School Director Morgan will be returned from the Third ward. W. A. Custer, who was spoken of for the Council, drew out several days ago, and is a warm supporter of Nelson now.

William H. Heitman is the choice of the Fourth ward delegation for Councilman, and Ran Getchell, the coal dealer, is their choice for School Director.

The Fifth ward will name J. E. Johnston for Councilman, J. A. C. Macdonald for Councilman-at-Large. The delegation favors David Rutherford for School Director from the ward and has not decided between Isaac Upham and E. W. Marston for School Director-at-Large.

In the Sixth ward delegation the talk is to nominate J. J. Lerri for Councilman.

The nominees for Councilmen-at-Large will probably include C. W. Wilkins of the Seventh Ward. The delegation there, which was for Powell, will go into the Convention and second the nomination of Chapman and support Wilkins for Councilman-at-Large. This spirit of reconciliation will be reciprocated by Mr. Chapman's friends, who will immediately support R. W. Snow for Auditor, and he will be nominated.



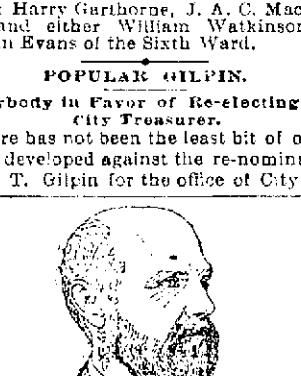
Ex Mayor W. R. Davis.

Besides Mr. Wilkins, the nominees for Councilmen-at-Large will be chosen from these: Harry Garthorne, J. A. C. Macdonald, and either William Watkinson or Talesin Evans of the Sixth Ward.

POPULAR GILPIN.

Everybody in Favor of Re-electing the City Treasurer.

There has not been the least bit of opposition developed against the re-nomination of Z. T. Gilpin for the office of City Tax Collector and Treasurer. This venerable and baldheaded gentleman seems so popular that he is likely to be retained in public office until his own desire prohibits his further acceptance of honors at the hands of his fellow citizens.



City Treasurer Z. T. Gilpin.

Mrs. J. E. Wootten of Pacific Grove is the guest of Mrs. Frank Worthington.

O. C. Lewelling, of the Norris ranch, ought to be next door to a millionaire this fall. He has something like 2500 in, principally wheat, and all growing beautifully.

The Haywards Fruit Growers' Association, at their annual meeting last Saturday, elected the following officers: President, H. W. Meek; Vice-President, C. S. King; Treasurer, F. C. Winton; Secretary, E. O. Webb.

We had a talk with William McAuslan, who is attending H. W. Rice, the first of last week. He appears quite hopeful that the inoculations of the well-known lymph of Professor Koch will greatly benefit the patient, and he even believes that it will ultimately cure him.

IT ALL DEPENDS--

The Contingency Convention of the Democrats.

WILL C. D. PIERCE TAKE A NOMINATION.

John P. Irish Proposed for Mayor—The Fight to be Made for One or Two Officers.

The Democratic convention on Wednesday will be a contingency convention. In other words the nominations made by the Democrats will depend very largely upon what the Republicans do this evening, and the minority party will follow its usual tactics of concentrating its forces in one or two places of attack and making the fight entirely there.

The Democrats do not seem inclined to make much of a fight, save on one or two district officers.

It was thought that they would make a fight on Mayor, but this project has dwindled very considerably since Saturday.

All of the nominations will depend upon the strength of the nominees, and in the spirit manifested in the convention and among the voters.

There is, consequently, no slate.

"We are all at sea," said one Democrat, prominent in the party councils. "We don't know what to do. Everything depends upon the action of the Republicans tonight. Of course we are going to make a fight in one or two wards, but outside of that everything depends upon circumstances."

The Democrats don't seem to know what to do in regard to Mayor. The nomination of M. C. Chapman by the Republicans is a foregone conclusion, but even with the advantage of knowing their opponents' hand, they don't know what card to play.

It has been thought all along that there are but two possible candidates for Mayor among the Democrats—Charles D. Pierce and R. M. Fitzgerald. Some think that Mr. Pierce would not take the nomination, and others seem to think to the contrary, and no one seems to know anything about it to-day, and Mr. Pierce himself is not in Winchester, but in Southern California.

Mr. Fitzgerald would make the canvass if tendered the nomination.

But a new boom sprung up under the showers of last night. That boom is John P. Irish for Mayor. John P. Irish has not said anything about it; in fact he has not been consulted about it at all. Some one has proposed his name, and it "took."

However, this nomination depends entirely whether Charles D. Pierce is in the field. If he is in the fight and will take the nomination, he can have it without any trouble.

The Democrats have decided that there is going to be a split in the Republican party on the nomination for Auditor.

The Democrats are looking for just such splits as this, and they are going to make a fight there if there is any show at all.

"There is going to be a fight whether Snow is nominated or not," said one of the minority. "If Snow is not nominated there will be a bolt in the Third ward, and if he is, one portion won't support him. I am inclined to think that we can elect our man even if Snow is nominated. Snow has fought Ames on every pretext two years ago, and he worked against the successful ticket in the Third ward at the primary on Saturday. Can the Chapman men support him under those circumstances? I think that if Cleve Dam will make the fight against Snow he would win it."

The Democrats are going to make a fight against H. M. Collins for the Council in the First ward. They are going to put up a man by the name of Thornbury, a rival grocer.

The Second ward nomination for the Council is cut out for George J. Earl, though Pat White, whoever he may be, is also an aspirant.

The Third ward is woefully silent on the subject of Council, or anything else.

The Fourth ward Democrats want to see how they "stack up" in a municipal election, and will run either Thomas Agnew or James Elliott.

John Hackett will get the Fifth Ward nomination for the Council.

C. A. Bresnahan will be nominated in the Sixth ward.

The Seventh ward delegation will present the name of O. C. Kirk.

For the Councilmen-at-Large Charles G. Yale, George L. Fish, J. J. White and J. C. McAvoy are all mentioned.

But the Democratic nomination will be a convention of contingency.

License Revenue.

The report of the City License Collector for the month of February shows a total collection of $13,998 75, of which $13,752 50 was for general business licenses. The sum of $12,200 was received in payment for saloon licenses, $825 for peddlers' licenses, $410 from laundries, $124 for vehicle numbers and $120 25 for dog tags and duplicates.

ALAMEDA.

A Fine Entertainment at the Gymnasium of the Olympic Club.

Young Men's Institute, No. 24, hold open meetings the third Wednesday of every month.

The trial of Louis Dubelbeis on a charge of larceny for stealing coal from a car at the West End will take place this evening.

The Fowler Land Exchange Company has taken a suite of rooms in the Petersen building. G. E. Colwell, the attorney, will have his office with the company.

The protest against the opening of Haight avenue, will be read at the meeting of the City Trustees this evening and a time will then be appointed to hear the objections. It will be necessary for the City Clerk to notify by mail, each of the forty signers of the protest.

The choir of St. Joseph's Church is making arrangements for a grand concert to be given in Park Opera House shortly after Easter. The choir is now rehearsing Giorza's Mass, which it will sing on Easter Sunday. This mass was sung with great success by the choir on Christmas day.

Although the application of J. H. Busch for a saloon license was not granted by the City Trustees last Wednesday evening, he opened his saloon last Saturday night, and has since been doing a good business. He was told by some of the trustees that his license would be granted this evening, and to open his saloon if he wanted to.

It is the intention of the Olympic Club to make several improvements to its gymnasium on Lincoln avenue. New apparatus will be put in, billiard and card rooms added, and the place will be made as attractive as possible for the young men of Alameda. Its membership embraces the best element of the younger class of citizens and the organization is in every way a worthy one.

R. H. Potts, a Park street cigar dealer, has been arrested on a charge of petty larceny, preferred by a Mexican named Olivas. The latter was playing cards in the rear of Potts's establishment, and a bogus dollar entered into the game. Potts says that it came from Olivas, and when Olivas put down a genuine dollar Potts picked it up and laid down, in its stead, the bad piece of money. Olivas demanded the good money back, but Potts would not return it, and the Mexican then took steps to have Potts arrested.

Justice Swasey thinks that he is not receiving a proper treatment from the police. He says that since he has been in office the police has not brought him a single case, and he firmly believes that they are boycotting him, but for what reason he does not imagine. He thinks it has gone far enough, and he intends to communicate with the City Marshal and ask what the police department has against him. When there was a justice's court at the West End it was the custom of the police to bring to that court all arrests west of Paru street, and to the Park street court all arrests made east of Paru street.

The rain came in a steady stream Saturday night in Alameda, but this did not deter a big gathering in the gymnasium of the Alameda Olympic Club to witness the events of the "Gentlemen's Night." The exhibition came up to the fullest expectations, and the standing of the club was moved several notches higher in the estimation of the sporting fraternity. Perham Nahl, the President of the club, acted as master of ceremonies, and when the show commenced, at about 8:30 o'clock, there were over 190 persons present. The first event was a three-round boxing contest between Sparrow and Waymire, both members of the local club, and they did good work. Then followed a similar bout between Osborne and Turnbull, also of the local club, and each displayed much science. R. McArthur and G. V. Cassidy of the San Francisco Olympic Club, were then ushered into the ring and gave an excellent exhibition of fistic science. The spectators were then entertained by Murphy and McCarthy, who gave a genuine slogging match. Following this came the event of the evening, a bout between Jackson and Godfrey. They were received with cheers, and every movement was eagerly watched as they moved about the ring, receiving and giving blows. At the end of the third round they were encored and a fourth was given. Their appearance in the ring thoroughly satisfied the spectators. The exhibition closed with a bout between Holland and Bishop of the Alpine Club.

A CHANGE IN THE FIRM.

J. Greenhood and J. T. Moran Retire—A Presentation to Mr. Moran.

The old and well-known firm of Greenhood & Moran has come to an end, and as an expression of the esteem in which they hold him, the employes of the store called on Mr. Moran at a late hour Saturday night and presented him with a handsome gold locket set with diamonds and appropriately inscribed. Mr. Moran was taken completely by surprise when A. J. McDonough of the tailoring department stepped out and made the presentation with a neat speech, and found it hard to make a reply, so great were his emotions. A delightful supper followed and some time was spent in general sociability. The business formerly conducted by Greenhood & Moran will hereafter be conducted by Max Greenhood and his brother-in-law, Mr. Strauss, of San Francisco.

ONLY HALF PAY.

The Policemen Object to Losing Salary While Unable to Be on Duty.

Police Officers Brown, Sill, Curtiss, and Turney have been notified that they will receive only half pay for the time in February lost by sickness. Last month an attempt was made to dock the salaries of Officers Mackey and Ball, but they complained to the Police Commissioners, and the latter ordered that they be given full pay, in as much as their sickness was incurred while in the discharge of duty.

The Narrow Gauge Washed Out.

The South Pacific Coast Railway is washed out, and no through trains to Santa Cruz are running. About ninety feet of track at Dougherty's Mills is gone.

More Clothes
Of the best kind
For the same money

Why do you pay fifty to eighty dollars for a suit of clothes which we duplicate in every sense for a third less?

You answer that you don't believe ours can be as good, if we charge less.

Why not?

Have we not proven that as good a shirt can be made and sold at a profit for "six for $12," as ordinary makers sell for $3 00 each?

In no respect do the fancy-price tailors surpass us

In point of fit, excellence of workmanship, quality of material, stylish cut, quality of goods, we challenge unprejudiced comparison.

The question remains for you to answer—Shall I get three suits for the price of two?

SONS OF ST. MARY'S

Alumni of the College of the Christian Brothers.

AN ASSOCIATION OF THE GRADUATES.

The Organization Formed at a Pleasant Meeting Held Yesterday at the College.

Yesterday afternoon the first steps were taken to organize an Alumni Association at St. Mary's College. There was a very good attendance of graduates of the college and students, some of whom had not met for years. The college graduated its first class in 1872, and there are now almost 150 graduates of the institution.

The meeting of yesterday was called to order by Brother Thomas, who made a short address of welcome and suggested the organization of the Alumni Society.

His views were concurred in by those attending and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifest. Temporary officers were elected as follows: President, B. P. Oliver, '73; Vice-President, George E. Cotts, '81; Secretary, Frank J. Kierce, '82. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and a permanent organization was perfected. Edward R. Myrick, '81, was elected Treasurer, and the Board of Directors will consist of the officers and John T. Greany, '80; Judge F. J. Murasky, '83; Paul J. Kingston, '79; Rev. Charles E. O'Neile, '82, and Thomas J. Lennon, '85.

In behalf of the students at present attending the college, William B. White of the graduating class made a very neat welcome address, in which he reminded the graduates of the early days of the college and telling them how they are now looked upon as examples of their own work and of the care of their instructors.

President B. P Oliver responded and recited reminiscences.

After a number of delightful selections by the college orchestra, a banquet was held and toasts were responded to as follows: "Our College Days," Brother Thomas; "Brother Justin," by Rev. Brother Cyanin; "Our Teachers," by Brother Erminold. Addresses were made by Brother Geneberne, President of the Sacred Heart College, San Francisco, and Father Mulligan, assistant pastor of St. Charles church. A number of other addresses were also made and the banquet ended at a late hour.

Those present were: Judge James J. Lawlor, '72; H. Kellum, '75; J. F. Coffee, '75; Rev. John E. Cottle, '77, pastor of St. Bridget's Church; Albert Tonchard, '77; W. J. McCormick, '78; William E. White, '78; Rev. Edward Doran, '79, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco; Paul F. Kingston, '79; Fravis S. Kelly, '79; Henry E. Coffee, '80; Charles J. Heggerity, '80; Robert E. Kierce, '82; Thomas F. Garrity, '82; Theodore J. Bonnett, '82; Judge Frank J. Murasky, '82; Rev. P. E. Mulligan, '83, assistant pastor at St. Charles' Church; Emmet Barret, '84; James P. SIXTY-FIVE YEARS.

Pleasant Celebration of the Birthday of Officer H. B. Rand.

Saturday afternoon and evening the residence of Officer H. B. Rand, 1005 Webster street, was thronged with merry visitors, who came to celebrate the sixty-fifth anniversary of the officer's birthday. The house was prettily decorated with flowers, while in one corner of the parlor a large picture of the veteran officer was tastefully decorated. As the door Officer Rand, in his hearty, cheerful way received all callers with a warm handshake. He was assisted in receiving by his daughter, Mrs. Nellie Favor, Mrs. C. D. Rogers, Mrs. M. J. Henderson and Mrs. Jordan.

The guests began to arrive early, and not until 12 o'clock at night did the last depart. Many brought handsome flowers, and Mr. Rand received many handsome gifts from officers and others.

Every caller was ushered into the banquet room, where dainty refreshments were served. The congratulations and well wishes showered upon the officer were sincere and grateful. Though 65 years old, Officer Rand is still a vigorous and healthy man. During the reception nearly all his brother officers called to tender their congratulations. A HORSE WHO CAN TALK!

Everybody has heard of a "horse laugh," but who has ever seen an equine gifted with the power of speech? Such an animal would be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph and the telephone a hundred years ago. Why, even very recently a cure for consumption, which is universally acknowledged to be scrofula affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased ones to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser and nutritive, or flesh-builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh in the Head, and all Lingering Coughs, it is an unequaled remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Chronic Diarrhea, and kindred ailments, it is a sovereign remedy.

GUARANTEED. "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a printed guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will benefit or cure in every case of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

That mouth and teeth with wondrous speed,
From tartar and from taint are freed

FUN AT AN AUCTION SALE.

The Ladies get Excited in an Attempt to Outbid Each Other.

There was a good deal of fun at an auction sale of millinery on Washington street, on Saturday last. A number of ladies were present who were bent upon securing certain pretty bonnets. When the bidding commenced the fun commenced. The ladies in their anxiety to secure a prize would forget their bids and frequently increased them before anybody had raised the price offered. This was fun for the auctioneer, and certain rude males present were loth to laugh loud. However, after the auction was over, the manager of the People's Express was called upon to carry a great number of articles to San Francisco. The People's Express did the work expeditiously, as is the custom with this company.

A. W. BISHOP, Postmaster.

To the Public.

Having suffered untold agony, caused by the pain and torment of dyspepsia, and serious stomach disorders, and realizing the feelings of others similiarly affected, I feel it my duty to mankind and the doctor, that I should hereby inform the public of my speedy recovery and complete restoration to health and happiness. I have traveled to London, Belgium, Antwerp, and Boston, seeking some possible relief but to meet with disappointment. Coming to Oakland, I became acquainted with reliable people who had been doctored and cured by Dr. W. H. Bluett. After carefully thinking the matter over, I decided to give Dr. Bluett a trial, and am most happy to say that after twenty-seven years of suffering, I today find myself a new man. I am now happy and contented and looking back at the numerous years of suffering I have passed, I feel that I cannot to highly recommend the doctor, who I feel has saved my life and made life worth living. I have suffered the agony of despondency to such an extent that life was indeed a burden. I no longer feel angry at the people I meet, but realize the fact that health is worth more than prosperity. I therefore tell of my experience that others may not be compelled to suffer as I have, with a sure cure within reach and still remain in the belief that a cure is impossible. I am a well man and owe my good health to Dr. W. H. Bluett.

Respectfully,
JOHN F. PRATT.

ORDINANCE NO. —

An Ordinance Concerning the Construction of Sidewalks and Curbs in the City of Oakland.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF the City of Oakland as follows:

Section 1.—It is hereby declared to be unlawful for any person to construct or cause to be constructed in the City of Oakland any sidewalk or curb without first obtaining from the Board of Public Works of said city a permit in writing so to do, unless the construction of said sidewalk or curb shall have been ordered by the Council.

Section 2.—Said permit shall be issued by said Board to the person applying therefor upon the payment of fifteen ($15) dollars a deposit, which deposit sum shall be retained by said Board until the completion of the sidewalk or curb in the permit described, and the removal of all debris caused by said construction. Said debris shall be removed within five (5) days after notice from the Superintendent of Streets, and, if not so removed, the Board of Public Works are hereby authorized to have the same done, at the expense of the contractor, and the deposit of $15 to be applied in payment therefor. When sidewalk and curb are fully constructed and debris removed to the satisfaction of said Board and superintendent of streets, then the deposit shall be refunded by said Board to the depositor upon surrender and cancellation of said permit, provided, however, that in no case shall such permit be granted to construct sidewalk or curb where the Council has passed Resolution of Intention to construct such sidewalk or curb.

Section 3.—Said permit shall be upon blank forms provided by the Board of Public Works, and shall specify the name and residence of the applicant, the location of the property in front of which the proposed sidewalk or curb is to be constructed, the length and width of said walk or curb and the material to be used in its construction. Said permit shall also contain a true printed copy of the provisions of the ordinance or ordinances setting forth the specifications adopted by the Council of the City of Oakland for the construction of curbs and of cement or bituminous sandrock sidewalks.

Section 4.—No sidewalk shall hereafter be constructed in the City of Oakland other than of cement or bituminous sandrock, unless special permission therefor be first obtained from the Council of said city by the owner of the property in front of which the walk is to be laid.

Section 5.—Within the fire limits of said city, as declared by its ordinances, only granite curbing shall be constructed.

Section 6.—All sidewalks and curbs hereafter laid must be constructed in every particular in accordance with the permit therefor issued and the specifications therein recited, and must be completed within thirty days from date of permit, unless an extension of time thereon be granted by the Council.

Section 7.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and in case said fine be not paid then the person so fined may be imprisoned in the City Prison of the City of Oakland, at the rate of one day for every dollar of the fine so imposed.

Section 8.—All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 9.—This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its approval.

THE DEAD SENATOR.

The Funeral Will Take Place on Thursday.

THE BODY TO BE SHIPPED TO CALIFORNIA.

A Telegram of Condolence From Governor Markham—The Houses of Congress Adjourn.

George Hearst, United States Senator from California, died in Washington, D. C., on Saturday evening from cancer. Both Houses of Congress were in session at the time. Senator Stanford announced the death to the Senate and Representative Clunie to the House, and each branch of Congress then adjourned. Representative McKenna made a brief, but eloquent address to the House when the announcement was made. Governor Markham sent the following telegram to Mrs. Hearst:

SACRAMENTO, March 1, 189 .

Mrs. George Hearst, Washington, D. C.: It is with deep regret that I learn of your husband's death. He was a true Californian ever alive to the interests of the people. As a representative he will be sincerely mourned by them, irrespective of party. He was my warm personal friend and a man for whom I entertained the highest regard.

H. H. MARKHAM,
Governor of California.

Funeral services will be held at the residence in Washington on Thursday.

The day of the funeral was delayed until Thursday so as to enable the members of the Senate and the House who desire to attend the funeral an opportunity to do so without interfering with the pressing business that demands their attention during the few remaining days of Congress. On Thursday night or Friday morning, the exact time not being determined upon as yet, the remains will be taken to the railroad station, deposited in a private car, attached to the regular train and started on their way to San Francisco, where the interment will take place.

Mrs. Hearst and her son, and possibly some intimate friends of the family may accompany the remains.

The honorary pallbearers have not yet been selected.

The Congressional committees will be taken to San Francisco, where a public funeral will take place.

The following committee has been appointed to attend the funeral on behalf of the Senate: Senators Stanford, Vance, Vest, Hoar, Sawyer, Bate, Berry, Stockbridge and Barbour.

George Hearst was born in Franklin County, Missouri, on September 3, 1820. His father, William G. Hearst, was a native of South Carolina, and with his parents' family, who were of Scotch descent, were among the earliest settlers of the then frontier, which was afterwards formed into the State of Missouri, the family moving there in 1808. George Hearst's mother was Elizabeth Collins, whose father, Jacob Collins, of English descent, was also one of the pioneers of that section, having removed from Georgia in 1803; Elizabeth was born in Georgia prior to their removal. The Collins family purchased a large grant of land for their new home, and engaged in farming and stock raising. Wm. G. Hearst and Elizabeth Collins, the parents of George Hearst, were married in 1817. In 1818 they went to Texas, but remained there only a year, returning to Missouri and again settling near the lead mines, and resumed their occupation of stock raising and farming.

The father of William G. Hearst, George's grandfather, had received a good education, but his new home being on the frontier, was deficient in schools, consequently the educational opportunities of his son, William G., were very limited. The same disadvantage in turn applied to his son George, who, having the privilege of schools for a part of the year only, received nothing more than an ordinary, practical country schooling.

Born in the neighborhood of what was then the scene of the principal mining operations in the United States, it was quite natural that the young Missourian should early enter into the business of mining as a profession, which he did at the age of 22, and soon achieved quite a success in the mining of lead and copper in the locality of his home.

In 1850 George Hearst, in common with many others of his neighbors and fellows, caught a glimpse of the "Golden Fleece" upon the slopes of the far western mountains and set his face toward the Pacific Coast. His health at the time being poor, he decided to go to California "overland," and leaving Missouri in March, 1850, made the trip across the plains in five months, arriving at Placerville, El Dorado county, in October of that year.

The future Senator's health had not been improved by the long and wearisome journey, but nevertheless he began work at placer mining, under the usual discomforts of that early day, and with the varied success attendant upon that class of mining operations. He continued at the placers until December 1851, when, bringing his practical knowledge of mining for ore, acquired by his previous experience in his native State into use, he with others discovered a ledge of rich gold quartz, which they immediately proceeded to develop and work according to the best facilities then offered for this, at that time, new kind of mining.

The stamp mill which he and his partners erected upon the claim was among the earlier quartz mills put up in the State. In the fall of 1852, having exhausted the richest portion of the lode, he "cleaned-up" on his quartz mining operations and with the proceeds went to Sacramento and engaged in general merchandising business, which, however, not proving sufficiently remunerative, and not being adapted to his particular business talents. After a trial of eight or nine months, he returned to placer mining, and continued in it for several years, and in his operations "washed down" into the waste dumps of his claim all his ready cash, and in 1855 found himself "broke."

Mr. Hearst then and there resolved to quit the uncertainties of placer mining forever, and henceforth to devote his business energies and mining experience to quartz mining alone. He left the "diggings" with only $40 of ready cash and went to Nevada county, Cal., and again commenced gold-quartz mining. He opened and developed some good mines with considerable profit, and continued active operations in that county until 1859, when the excitement over the Washoe silver mines swept through the State and carried him with it to the then inhospitable region of Indians and snow drifts beyond the Sierras, but, being so rich in the precious metals, a city soon sprang into existence with the magic of Aladdin's lamp, upon the bleak sides of the famous Mount Davidson.

A company of friends supplied the necessary outfit, and he started out from Nevada City on a prospecting trip to the Comstock lode, then in Utah Territory, on July 29, 1859. The journey was a severe one, although of only three days' duration. The day previous to starting a gentleman gave him a piece of the "black ore," as it was then called, from the new discovery over the new mountains. An assay of this giving a result of $1003 per ton in gold and a dollar a pound in silver, opened his eyes to what he might expect to find in the new mining rejoin. Upon his arrival he found only fifteen or twenty men there, and his party was the second one from California, the first having reached the mines only three or four days in advance of themselves. The extent of the exploration consisted in a few pits sunk on the surface of four by six feet, and five or six feet in depth.

At that time but a very few of the miners knew of the worth of the ore in silver, but valued it solely for the gold. Some, however, had essays made for silver, and one gave the information to Mr. Hearst that the "black stuff" contained $2000 to the ton in silver. He remained there about six weeks prospecting to gain a knowledge of the extent of the mineral deposits. He soon decided that the discovery was of immense importance, and that mines of vast wealth would be developed. He at once made contracts for an interest in one of the most important, the famous Ophir mine, and returned to Nevada City to obtain the required amount of purchase money.

Having succeeded, Mr. Hearst again journeyed to the Comstock, secured and took possession of his claim and went to work. They used Mexican arrastas for securing the free gold, and sacked the remaining pulp for shipment to San Francisco. After shipping some forty-five tons at a cost of twenty-five cents per pound for freight they found it could not be sold in the city at any price, there not being any available means of working it. At last a metallurgist agreed to erect furnaces and smelt it for $450 a ton. It yielded $3800 per ton, and this being coined into silver dollars at the mint, created an excitement that settled the question of the actual and speculative value of the Comstock mines. Mr. Hearst sold one-half of his interest in this first claim for $45,000, and returned to the Washoe county again in 1860, and invested some $25,000 in various claims along the vein, and resumed active mining operations.

At this time, hearing of the ill health of his mother in Missouri, he determined to visit his old home and cheer her declining years. Mr. Hearst left San Francisco in 1860 for the East via Panama, arriving at his mother's residence in Missouri in September of that year, and remained there until his mother's death, which took place in April of the following year. Business matters detained him until October, 1862, when he again returned to San Francisco.

During his stay in Missouri, Mr. Hearst wooed and won Miss Phœbe E. Apperson, daughter of Randolph W. Apperson, a Virginian of excellent family and English descent. They were married in June, 1862, and arrived in California in November of that year, and in April, 1863, a son was born to them.

Upon his second arrival in California Mr. Hearst again went into active mining operations on the Comstock and gave his entire attention to the business of quartz mining in the Washoe region and elsewhere, and in 1865 had succeeded in raising his bank account to perhaps a comfortable million. At this period a financial failure of other parties caused him a loss of $400,000, and some large mining enterprises in which he was engaged resulting disastrously, in 1866 he found himself again in reduced circumstances. But the angel of good fortune, which seemed always in attendance at the critical periods of his life, now waved its magical wand. Mr. Hearst went into real estate operations when that business was just about to "boom" in San Francisco, and in two years realized profits which set him on his feet financially. He again returned to the business of mining. His reputation as an expert brought to his aid whatever additional capital he required and with others he successfully bought and sold, always with a large profit to himself, the Mineral Hill mines and the Eureka mines in the State of Nevada. The latter himself and partners worked with most satisfactory results for two or three years, and then sold at a large profit.

In 1872 Mr. Hearst formed a connection with the well-known capitalist, J. B. Haggin, in the purchase of the celebrated Ontario mine in Utah, which has paid them eleven millions of dollars in dividends and is considered inexhaustible in this generation. They followed this successful venture by acquiring large mining interests in the Black Hills, in Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and California.

Besides his extensive mining interests, Mr. Hearst of later years has invested heavily in real estate in San Francisco in land and cattle in Arizona and New Mexico and thousands of acres of farming land situated in various parts of California.

Some years ago he purchased the San Francisco Examiner newspaper and made of it the leading organ of the Democracy of California. After a time he turned it over into the hands of his son, W. R. Hearst, who has made of the Examiner a great newspaper.

In politics George Hearst was always a staunch Democrat; with no sign or shadow of turning from his life-long political principles. After wealth had showered upon him he was always ready to open his purse for the benefit of his party. In 1865-66 he was a member of the State Legislature of California and after his purchasing the Examiner he became prominent in the management of the party affairs. At the celebrated San Jose convention of the Democratic party held in 1882, Mr. Hearst was a prominent candidate before his party for Governor of the State. Being defeated by Gen. George Stonemen, it was recognized that Mr. Hearst should receive the support of the Democracy for the office of United States Senator, and in 1886 his party having a majority in the Legislature of the State, he was elected to that high and honorable position. His term would have expired March 4, 1893.

In his forty years' career on the Pacific coast George Hearst made many friends and but few enemies. He was well and favorably known throughout the length and breadth of the State by thousands of individuals with whom he had had business dealings. He was a faithful man, and honorable in the fulfillment of his pecuniary obligations, and, while in business matters he always insisted upon having good bargains, at the same time he was always generous to his friends and ever ready to do his neighbor a good turn and lend a helping hand to a companion in distress. Mr. Hearst was a man of a hospitable, kindly nature, whose domestic hearth was his home; and, blessed with the society of an amiable and loving wife and a large circle of warm-hearted friends, he enjoyed the well-earned fruits of his energy and perseverance.

Without being the possessor of brilliant talents, yet he had those qualities of quick and ready adaptation to circumstances and a personal magnetism which brought success in his particular enterprises to a greater degree than to many who boast of a university education and great intellectual endowments.

A DRIVE TO DEATH.

Benjamin Oyarzo Drowned in Eastman's Quarry Near Temescal.

An Attempt to Drive a Horse on a Submerged Road Along the Edge of a Precipice.

Benjamin Oyarzo, aged 22 years and 5 months, was drowned at Eastman's quarry, near Temescal, Saturday. Deceased left the home of his parents on Forty-fourth street at about 5:30 o'clock and drove to Eastman's quarry with the intention of washing his cart. He was accompanied by August Monigete. A. Monigete left the cart when near the quarry and young Oyarzo drove into the water.

By blasting and excavating the rock from the hill that forms the quarry a basin has been scooped out which is in the vicinity of two hundred by three hundred feet across. Its perpendicular walls of rock are eighty feet high at the highest point. Around the north side of the basin is a roadway used in hauling rock. A sheer declivity of twenty feet is just at the edge of this roadway. The winter rains have filled the basin some twenty-five feet and submerged the road two and a half feet. It was a wildly hazardous undertaking, but Oyarzo, who has been working at the quarry, probably thought he knew the road well enough to drive in without danger, even though it were under water. He had driven about half way across when the horse backed over the precipice before mentioned and cart, horse and driver sank in the deep water. Monigete was unable to render any assistance. He threw out a wire rope, but neither the horse, the vehicle nor the unfortunate driver rose into sight after going under the water.

The family and friends were at once notified. Two large cartridges like those used in blasting were thrown into the water Saturday night and two Sunday morning. After the last cartridge was exploded, a horse's foot appeared above the surface of the water. Ropes were attached and horse and wagon were dragged out. Manuel Oyarzo, brother of Benjamin, and another young man, got on a raft and with long grappling irons, succeeded in bringing up the body of the drowned man. His face was bruised badly. The body was laid on the ground and covered with a rubber coat to await the coming of the coroner, who arrived an hour and a half later. In the meantime a large crowd gathered around the dead man, among whom were the relatives. Coroner Evers soon arrived and the body was taken to the morgue.

Deceased was born in San Pablo, Contra Costa county and was the unmarried son of Manuel and Carmen Oyarzo. His brothers and sisters are Mrs. Teresa Beakley of Columbus avenue, Mrs. Tillie Blackwood of San Francisco, Mrs. Delia Albes of North Oakland, Mrs. Florence Gacia of North Oakland, Mrs. Nellie Ruiz of Auburn, Placer county, Mrs. Mollie Bramlet of Oakland, Aleck Oyarzo of Linden lane, Maud and Edward Oyarzo of Forty-fourth street. Mr. Oyarzo was for a while employed as clerk for C. Pedrini in his grocery store and also with Henry Jund, in his meat market at Temescal. He was a young man of genial good nature and very popular among his friends.

A FINE GAME OF FOOTBALL.

A Draw Betwee the Oakland and the San Francisco High School Teams.

Saturday after oon the Oakland High School Football C ub and the San Francisco High School Club met for the first time on the Alameda grou nds. Large numbers of representatives fr m each school were present and watched t e game with great interest, giving ve t to their feelings by shouting their sch ol yells whenever a good play was made.

At half after tw o'clock the teams "lined up" on the field. It was apparent from the first sight of the p ayers that although the Oakland boys ma le a pretty showing in their new suits of blue and white, still they were no match in weight for the heavy San Francisco club.

The teams wer as follows: Oakland High School—Col ier, left guard; Gowing, right guard; War er, left tackle; Dutton, right tackle; Mor is, left rusher; McMurtry, right rusher; Young, center forward; Sam Neel, quart r-back; Frank Wilder, half-back; Carl Neel, half-back; Taylor, full-back.

Grigsby, umpire.

The San Franci cos won the toss, and the ball was dribbled nd passed to Kennedy, who started to ru , the club forming a V around him, but was tackled by Young. The ball then cam to the Oaklands, and Neel succeeded in kicking it the length of the field, where G nn of the San Franciscos secured it. Then ollowed some close rushing, after which th ball again passed to the Oaklands, and W der managed to make the most brilliant un of the game, bringing the ball close o the goal; but it was shortly forced bac to the middle. Wilder made another run and, after some more close rushing, time was called, neither club having scored a p int. During the first half some fine tack ing was done by Wilder Sam Neel, Dutton, Carr, Neel and Gowing.

The second half was a repetition of the first, both Wilder nd Neel of the Oaklands making some pret y runs, while Kennedy and Gibbons of th San Franciscos forced the ball. When t me was called neither team had manage l to score, so the game was called a dra . The San Francisco team is well traine l and plays an excellent club game, but the Oaklands eclipse them all around in individual playing. Fine tackling was don during the game by Neel, Wilder, Gowing, Warner and Young of the Oaklands, while Gibbons, Kennedy, Belcher and Gunn of the San Franciscos took the honors for their team. Altogether, the game was one of the most interesting of the series, and he jubilant High school boys loudly shoute l their school yell. As they passed THE TRIBUNE office they joyously gave cheers f r the paper and shrieked the school yell.
